

Child Study Center
Department of Psychology

Dr. Margaret Beale Spencer
University of Pennsylvania

Director of the Center for Health,
Achievement a Neighborhood Growth and Ethnic Studies (CHANGES)

Director of the Interdisciplinary Studies in Human Developments (ISHD) Program

Professor of Psychology

Schooling and Identity Processes:
Challenges to the 'Acting White'
Assumption about Urban Youth

Wednesday | May 9 2001 | 7:30 pm
The Nittany Lion Inn—Ballroom A
Reception Follows

Dr. Spencer's research interests include the prediction of resiliency and the influence of identity processes for competence formation among urban children and adolescents. Her work focuses on the unique developmental experiences of African American males during their transition from middle childhood into adolescence and young adulthood.

COLLEGE OF THE LIBERAL
ARTS

PENNSTATE

Child Study Center: Lois Bloom

Lecture Series

Contact: Lynn Liben, CSC Director, liben@psu.edu